The Victorians

In the Victorian era, people flocked to the cities to find work or take up new business opportunities. Some found wealth, others only poverty. For those with money, the home became a haven (place of safety) in a fast-changing world. The comforts of a warm house and good food had never been more important.

Task: Research Victorian recipes, and make a Victorian dish to share with your family (it can be sweet or savoury). Remember you must take a picture of your creation for your homework book!

Expectations:

- This task card will be neatly stuck into your book.
- A copy of the recipe you used will be neatly written into your book.
- A photograph will accompany your recipe.
- A short evaluation paragraph will reflect on your homework task, what went well, could have gone better, why did you choose this recipe etc.
